

Important points for all those delivering leaflets door-to-door

In the weeks and months following the ease of COVID-19 lockdown restrictions, please take these extra precautions:

- Only deliver leaflets through a closed door.
- Do not approach anyone who opens a door to you.

For your general safety

- Where possible deliver leaflets in pairs. This is more fun and safer than leafleting on your own, and increases the number of leaflets you can deliver.
- Take a mobile phone with you.
- Do not approach any house where you see anything which makes you feel uncomfortable (for example a dog), or where for any reason you feel unsafe. Just move on to the next house.
- Be especially careful when pushing leaflets through letter boxes that there is no dog inside. A spatula can be a useful tool for pushing leaflets through.

Please respect the households where you deliver leaflets

- Please do not deliver leaflets to houses that request 'no junk mail'.
- If you are unable to deliver a leaflet into a letterbox, do not place leaflets elsewhere or drop them on garden paths.
- Please do not deliver leaflets late in the evening or overnight. It can be frightening for people to hear their letterbox rattled at unusual times. This can be particularly distressing to elderly people.
- Please be mindful of sensor- operated lights, which, if activated late at night can also alarm people.

Thank you

Society for the Protection of Unborn Children, Unit B, 3 Whitacre Mews, Stannary Street,
London SE11 4AB

June 2021